

We Remember

We listen to family stories. And we remember.

We tell the stories. And we remember.

The stories of the past inform the present.

And the act of remembrance inspires a brighter future.

Use this 22-minute Remembrance Day video to open the door to conversation and stories. Storyteller Doreen Vanderstoop tells about some of her parents' experiences growing up in The Netherlands during World War II. Storyteller Mary Hays shares stories told to her by her parents who served overseas during WWII in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corp. And Doreen shares some songs.

This program is for all ages. View it at home or with school groups.

Send the program as a gift to a special person or seniors' group.

FEE:

We are offering this as a 'pay what you can' program.

It is yours to view and then tell others about the storytelling experience.

For those who can pay. . . a suggested fee schedule:

- $25 - 50 for individual or household viewing
- $50 - 100.00 for 1 class or 1 group showing
- $200.00 for multiple showings at one location

For more information, email storymary@hotmail.com.

After the 'pay what you can' fee is sent via e-transfer, Mary will send you a link to the video.

Available November 1, 2020 (advanced purchase welcome).